AWFUL LOSS OF LIFE ON THE DEEP SEA

The awful wreck and loss of the monster Atlantic ocean steamship of the White Star line places in history the greatest of all sea disasters.

Between 10 and 11 o'clock Sunday night this great floating city was speeding toward American shores on her first trip, struck an immense iceberg about 400 miles east of Cape Race and was so badly damaged that she sank four hours later to a watery grave along with more than one thousand passengers and members of her crew.

This leviathan of the sea, the largest and strongest ever built, was traveling about 18 knots an hour by what is known as the Northern or short route from England to America when she ran into thick ice and notwithstanding all precautions and the general supposition that the hand of man had constructed the ship absolutely indestructable, she, like an innocent bird struck by the huntsman's gun, was helpless. Quivered, quailed, and with a few short heaves, or gasps, went to the bottom, numbering one more among "the ships that pass in the night."

It is estimated that almost 1,500 people—passengers, officers and sailors lost their lives, while the Carpathia, the first ship to get to the resuce, picked up from the small boats sent out from the foundered vessel, 868 people—mostly women and children and is rushing them to New York port.

It is thought many may yet be saved, who in that four hours of awful suspense made hasty but crude preparation and took refuge in waters of the deep on small boats, pieces of wreckage or on ice floes which came near the sinking vessle. The officers of the White Star line are horror stricken and are at a loss to account for the fearful accident. A hasty conference has already been held and a decision reached to not hereafter allow any vessel to attempt the Northern or short route of travel as long as ice is floating to endanger property and life.

In the meantime the world tremblingly awaits the awful stories to be told by the Carpathia's passengers who were taken from the sinking Titanic, some of them in their night clothes, as the crash came in the dead of night, after most of the passengers had retired. It is said the water where the Titanic went down is two miles or more in depth.

TYPICAL SPECIMEN OF A SPRING POEM

The spring poet is here. The warbling of the litte birds and the appearance of the blades of green grass is too much for some people. They can't stand the strain occasioned by the change of seasons and they naturally burst forth into poetry. This morning bright and early the first specimen of the season was brought into this office. The messenger couldn't tell the authors name. In fact he said he didn't know the man who sent him as a messenger to the paper office to get his first effort of the season in print. We read the little gem over and after pondering for awhile decided that it would be little less than a crime to hide such treasures from the eyes of the world and while it appears without the name of the author he or she can come forth at any time and claim the credit. We don't want any credit for the effort of others The poem:

"The Value of a Rain Drop."

Little drops of water coming down in showers,
Bring from the earth our beautiful grass and fragrant flowers;
Little drops of water flying all around,
Make a little garden of our dry and barren ground.
Little drops of water
See how they fly.
How we love to watch them coming from the sky.
Little drops of water
How they will come down.
Making nature scenes of grandeur and renown.
Little drops of water
How we aught to sing.
Oh the many blessings
They are bound to bring.
Little drops of water.
If we only knew there worth;
The many joys and comforts they bestow upon the earth.
Little drops of water,
Gifts of God's own loving hand
One of the most precious gifts
Ever given to mortal man
Little drops of water
So tiny though they be.
Help to form our rivers,
Our calm and boistrous seas.
Little drops of water.
Oh, come let us forever sing.
Of the wondrous love and mercy of the Lord our Heavenly King.

Board of Trade to Meet

On Friday evening of this week the Board of Trade will hold its April meeting. The program will be purely local as no out of town speakers have been engaged. After the regular business is transacted there will be impromtu speeches by several members and the interest will be no less than at former meetings. Answer to Who Is Who Mystery Given Today

On page three in this issue you will find the mysterious "Who is Who" and it will answer the thousands of questions that the people of Monessen have been asking with reference to "Who is Who?"

It was interesting to learn of the many ideas that the people in town thought was the solution to the question "Who is Who;" some declared they knew "what man it is," others believed it was a show coming, some thought it was a certain make of "cigars." Others thought all manners of things about it.

You'll find that "Who is Who" are prominent merchants and you'll be better acquainted with these merchants and what they have to offer you, after you carefully read the descriptions of their business places.

All you have to do to win one of the cash prizes for guessing "Who is Who" is to carefully read the descriptive write up articles and guess who each space represents and you should reserve this paper until you figure out who you believe each space represents then you should call upon them to make sure you are right. If the parties you call upon are "Who is Who" they will tell you and if they are not they will have to say no. Note the conditions of the contest on first page of the descriptions.

All answers must be received at this office addressed to the "Who is Who" man not later than Tuesday April 23. This gives you several days to work out this problem.

On Wednesday April 24 the correct name of "Who is Who" merchants will appear with their write up and prize winners names will be published in the space first occupied by the conditions of the contest, at which time the prize winners may call and receive their reward. Remember to get your answer in as early as possibleas the first correct or nearest correct answer will be awarded.

Everybody has an equal opportunity to win an award in this contest and as many as like out of each family may send in answers. It is up to you to find "Who is Who," and remember "Who is Who."

And Then it Rained Some

One of the hardest spring rains visited the town this morning but Third street escaped its usual quantity of debris. The street department has cleaned the sewer inlets and every bit of water was taken in at the head of the street. After the rain the street was as clean as though washed and residents of that section of the town are rejoicing that their interests are being looked after.

Monessen Couple Marry In Cumberland

Mr. John Lauderbeck and Miss Lulu Pritchard, both of Monessen were married yesterday in Cumberland, Md. word having been received here last night and friends of the couple received post cards today announcing the marriage.

This comes in the way of an elopement as friends of the couple knew nothing of their intentions.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pritchard of Schoonmaker avenue and Second street, the father being employed in the DeMont meat market. She left home Sunday presumably to visit friends at Vesta, and the first heard from her was a telephone call to her father Tuesday. The young man is a carpenter, having worked on the new Olympic theatre during its building and is now employed at the Pittsburgh Steel mill. The young couple will likely be home today or tomorrow to receive forgiveness from the bride's parents and congratulations from friends.

NONESSEN MEN PURCHASE VALUABLE THEATRE SITE

The Ideal Photo Play Co., Monongahela, of which Tom B. Cowan of the Monessen Bijou Theatre is manager, has bought of Henry Louttit the property on which the "Ideal" stands and will soon enlarge and greatly improve the Monongahela show house, adding vandeville. The Ideal Photo Play Co., is made up of Tom B. Cowan, George Moore and H. E. Shibler, all of Monessen, who now own a nice little string of picture houses—the Bijou Monessen, the Star at Donora, the Ideal of Monongahela and the Star at Charleroi. Plans are now being made for a handsome and modern vaudeville and picture theatre to be built at Donora by these men and work will be under way in about a month.

Evangelist Houck is Very Sick

Evangelist Houck, who many of our people will remember as having assisted in the revival services in the Presbyterian church some time ago is reported very sick at his home in Finleyville with pneumonia. Rev Houck was compelled to abandon a series of successful meetings at Speers on account of a heavy cold which developed more seriously after he got home.

MANY SIGHTS WILL BE OPEN TO VIEW

The trip over the town Thursday contemplated by the Board of Health and leading citizens will no doubt reveal many things. There is one thing certain; it will reveal a far filthier condition than any one suspects who has not been a close observer. Many of the alleys and vacant lots are very unsightly and in certain sections no rubbish has been removed since the last cleanup day. The trip is contemplated for the purpose of gathering evidence in an effort to start some general movement to have the town thouroughly cleaned and it is believed that from now on a better enforcement of the sanitary laws can be had since the town employs a regularly salaried ordinance officer.

SALESMAN HERE WITH GREAT DICTIONARY

W. C. Moore of Pittsburgh is in town selling the Webster New International dictionary This is one of the greatest books of the day, strictly up-to-date in every way and not only gives every word in the English language but also its origin and proper pronunciation. It is an immense volume, perfectly bound and without doubt the best dictionary on the market. It should be in every home and especially in every home where any member of the family is working along educational lines or where there are children attending school and no school teacher should be without a copy. The book is being placed on the market by the G. C. Merriam Co. of Springfield Mass., which firm will at any time be gald to furnish further information regarding the work.

PROGRESS OF OUR SCHOOLS IN MUSIC

It is pleasing to note the deep interest being taken by the heads of our public schools and the most excellent work being accomplished along that line by the students of Monessen high school as well as by the scholars of the various other rooms. Those who pay but little attention to school work would wonder were they to make a visit thereto and go through the various rooms and take note of the progress being made among our children in the rudiments and the higher branches of music, and while a certain amount of attention is given to the instruction of music we do believe even better work could be accomplished.

The excellent work by children in the Eisteddfod which was held in the opera house last Saturday is proof positive that the children of Monessen are farther advanced in music than are those of most towns in the same class, and the production of the cantata, to-morrow night "The Wreck of the Hesperus" by the students of our schools speaks wonders for their progress along this line, and that they are accomplishing much that will be of worth to them in after life is plain to be seen. Many there are who hoot, sneer and even condemn the idea of teaching music in our public schools, but such are either old fogies or else through ignorance their eyes and even their hearts are closed and dumb to the modern or present day methods of inculcating into the minds of the younger generation the more refined, sublime and elevating ideas that tend to make better men and sweeter women.

As a result of teaching music in the schools of St. Louis each graduate of the high school is familiar with fifty grand opera choruses or selections from oratorios, in addition to a wide range of less pretentious songs of merit and this work has been carried on for five years, and in that time a great chorus of 2,500 St. Louis school children, accompanied by the Damrosch Symphony Orchestra, sang with great success selections from classical compositions and music of the highest

Thursday of this week the Board of Health has set aside to go over the town on a tour of inspection. The conditions at this time of the year are not the most wholesome to promote the health of the community and this body has resolved to inaugurate a clean up crusade. The alleys are filthy in many places and in the tenement districts reports come that the energies of the health authorities are very much needed. It has been an annual custom to go over the town during the spring months in order to ascertain what is needed and where the work is most essential. It has been reported that there are those who have not removed their garbage and offal since last clean up day and if these reports be true the board will demand action and will see that in the future the laws are more stringently enforced.

MAN BREAKS DOWN

A Strasburg, Pa., man, Martin B. Burkhart, has just had a remarkable experience. Some months ago he noticed his health failing and in spite of all he could do, soon found himself in that condition which everyone dreads—"general breakdown."

In a letter he says: "It seemed as if my health was ruined and I never would be strong again. Various other medicines did me no good but I began to take Vinol and it has done me a wonderful amount of good. I am now as well as I ever was, have gained twelve pounds, my appetite is good, sleep soundly, and feel like a new man. All credit is due to Vinol."

He is only one of many thousands who have been built up to health by our delicious cod liver and iron preparation without oil. All who are broken in health, run-down, weak and nervous, should profit by his experience and regain their health by the use of Vinol. We guarantee that it will build you up and make you strong—your money is given back if it does not. Hirsch Drug Co., Monessen, Pa.

Contractors' Prospects Good

George S. Shrader & Son contractors seem to be opening the season with good prospects. Daily contracts for dwellings are being secured and many prospects are open to the firm. Yesterday Andelo Campano awarded the firm a contract for the construction of a double brick dwelling in East Monessen at a cost of $3,.000. Mr. Shrader last season completed several of the finest houses in the town and he claims the prospects are equally good for this year.

THE TRUE TEST

Tried in Monessen, It Has Stood the Test

The hardest test is the test of time, and Doan's Kidney Pills have stood it well in Monessen-Kidney sufferers can hardly ask for stronger proof than the following:

Mrs. Feightner, 133 Oneida street, Monessen, Pa., says: "I suffered from severe pains in my back and left side and it seemed as if there were no relief for me. I had dizzy spells and my appetite was poor. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I obtained a box, although I had but little hope of their curing me. I am now glad that I took this remedy, however, for it improved my condition in every way." (Statement given Oct. 2, 1907.)

RE-ENDORSEMENT.

When Mrs. Feightner was interviewed on Nov. 9, 1909 she said: "I gladly re-endorse Doan's Kidney Pills. I still think highly of them and advise their use in all cases of kidney trouble."

PROGRESS OF OUR SCHOOLS IN MUSIC

character. Several orchestra-choral concerts have been given jointly with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, the vocal pieces being divided equally among three choruses of about 400 children each Among the composers represented in the repertoire of the St. Louis school children are Wagner, Offerbach, Beethoven, Mendelsschn, Gounod, Verdi, Grieg, and Costa.

They begin in the very early grades by giving selections from the easier arrangements of oratorios and grand operas and thus continue on through the higher rooms.

Thus a love for and understanding of classical music is inculcated with such good effect that of the 80,000 school children there are but few who would not much rather sing fine music than ragtime.

The principle followed is unique but practical and brings results. The teacher at first simply sings and plays, and that is the basic principle on which the work is started. The child is started to sing by singing to it, not by making it first learn the scales, and in that way any child can be taught to sing. In the end techinque comes most unconsciously with the result that the new method of teaching singing by singing developes more and better sight-readers of music than any old method.

Development. That's all needed to make America equal and superior to Germany, France or Italy, and that we have not long been so is due to the fact that but little attention has been paid to the study of the most delightful of all sciences.

Our country has the material and there is no reason why we should not become the most musical country in the world. Proper and persistent traimig is all necessary. Begin right at home in our own schools, then take higher courses, and our country has instructors equal to those of any foreign land.

If the pupils of our schools can be educated to the point where they can appreciate and love the masterpieces and abhor the hideous cacophanies and symmetrical syncopations of common rag-time, a great work will have been done, and we are pleased, doubly pleased to note Monessen schools following right along in this elevated and high minded trend.

To see this demonstrated one will only have to attend and listen to the musical treat in store at the opera house to-morrow night. Don't miss it.

Among the evening's features was the playing of "500" in which Mrs. Charles Allen of First street was awarded the first prize, Mrs James Wood of Knox avenue winning second. Among the gentlemen, L. W. Hunter of McKee avenue received first and George Engle of Oneida street second.

Pink and white being the colors and the scheme was very beautifully carried out. Covers were laid for thirty-two and miniature wedding bells served as favors. Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie were recipients of many very beautiful and useful remembrances which are prized very highly, and will be more and more so as years come and go. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allen, Mr. and Mrs George Engel, Mr. and Mrs. J. A Lohman, Mr. and Mrs. J. E Pittman, Mr and Mrs. L. W. DOMINANT

Over half of the American cars driven by tourists in Europe are Packards, according to registrations in the Paris edition of the New York Herald.

At mountain touring centers in the United States, Packard cars outnumbered all others, according to registrations at the leading touring rendezvous.

The dominant position at once conceded to the Packard "Six" has so spurred the demand for Packard cars that sales for 1912 models in mid-season exceed the total sales of the 1911 season, 77 per cent of the entire 1912 output already having been sold.
